

The Demons.

Give me light again.
These demons are more
Than memory and brain.
I've numbered the days, four,
They attended me: thick
Dark soldiers laying waste
Pleasure and sleep, sick
Men of my belly, they paced
Through my veins till I thought
They'd gone, but still they fought.
Give me light again.
